Death Rides on Wings of Wind

Death and destruction rode on the wings of a tornado-like windstorm that swept parts of Pennsylvania and West Virginia last night . . . bringing such scenes as this to prosperous sections, razing buildings, burying scores in wreckage. At Chartiers Hill, Pa., Carl Bates and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Riley Bates, are pictured hunting the ruins of Carl's house for valuables.

Flight Balked At Cherbourg

By WES GALLAGHER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, June 24 (AP) — British motor torpedo boats smashed a German attempt to flee Cherbourg, sinking or damaging five of seven merchantmen in a night-running convoy, supreme headquarters anounced today, as an American spearhead battered to within 2000 yards—little more than a mile—of the port from the south.

Field dispatches declared German defenses ringing Cherbourg "showed signs of crumbling," and supreme headquarters said German resistance at the transatlantic port "might turn into stubborn street fighting."

The German high command apparently tried to sneak valuable technicians and important material out of Cherbourg under cover of darkness last night, but the swift torpedo boats crashed through the protecting German escort ships into the center of the convoy.

TWO SHIPS SUNK

Two of the seven merchantmen were sunk and three damaged before the convoy ran for the refuge of the channel islands east of the jutting Cherbourg peninsula. The British ships suffered some damage and casualties.

Headquarters declared the Nazi Cherbourg garrison had been ordered to "fight to the last." Street fighting would delay Allied capture of the great supply port.

An American spearhead punctured the stubborn, interlaced Nazi pillbox defenses southeast of Octeville, the fortress just southwest of Cherbourg, after a pulverizing air and artillery bombardment. Associated Press Correspondent Don Whitehead said in a dispatch written at 9:15 a. m. today (3:15 a. m., EWT).

Headquarters said the doughboys fought forward slowly and had all but reached the sea on both sides of the besieged port in hand-to-hand struggle with Germans resisting fanatically. The assault troops are battling "within sight of the docks," supreme headquarters said.

1200 MORE PRISONERS

Whitehead wrote that 1200 prisoners have been taken in the last 24 hours, and that the Cherbourg line had become a "death trap" for hundreds of Nazis who refused an Allied ultimatum to surrender and were forced to fight by German officers holding guns at their backs.

In bittle battle, the Americans have blasted a wedge deep into the German line, and "Cherbourg is doomed as an enemy stronghold," he added.

A field dispatch said an American breakthrough was made between Mont du Roc and Octeville. Fortified Mont du Roc is two and a half miles southwest of Cherbourg's city limits near Nouainville where rises one of the three peaks dominating the port. Octeville is a fortress site two miles east of Nouainville.

Before this breakthrough other American forces captured by storm a fortified high point at Tourlaville, a mile east of Cherbourg, another of the peaks.

Allies in Italy Cut Lateral Road

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ROME, June 24 (AP)—Fifth Army tanks and infantry, advancing against strong resistance, today occupied Roccastrada and cut a lateral road to the north, while another column closed in on Follonica, on the coastal route to Livorno and Pisa.

The Germans, making a firm stand against the Eighth Army in Central Italy, continue strong resistance east and west of Lake Trasimeno.

Hard fighting continued around Chiusi, nine miles southwest of Lake Trasimeno, which the enemy regained by infiltration. New German counter-attacks north of Perugia were repulsed.

On the Adriatic coast sector, Allied troops had reached the outskirts of San Elpedro. Earlier reports had placed other units of the Eighth Army near the vicinity of Morrovalle and Montecosaro, 25 miles from Ancona.

French colonials, fighting to the east of the Americans, have reached north of Castiglione d'Orcia, 17 miles west of Chiusi. Between Perugia and the Adriatic, Eighth Army forces were driving toward Camerino and Macerata.

Heavies Pound Normandy Area

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, June 24 (AP)—American Fortresses and Liberators, ranging over France with escorting fighters which made up a total force of 500 planes, hammered rail bridges, airfields and other enemy installations behind the Normandy battle zone today while Marauders ripped up four German gun positions blocking the advance of infantry into Cherbourg.

The Berlin radio reported U. S. heavy bombers also were heading into northwest Germany.

Renewing their close support of Allied invasion troops, the Marauder medium bombers, under a Thunderbolt escort, dumped more than 250 tons of explosives on the heavy guns near Cherbourg. Crew members described the results as devastating.

Red Drive Rolls on Latvia

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, June 24 (AP)—The Red army, in a new central front offensive that was an integral part of Allied grand strategy, rolled westward in spectacular fashion today and reached points only 75 miles from the Latvian border.

The Russians battled swollen streams and deep mud northwest of Vitebsk, where they pushed on Polotsk, 30 miles away.

Reports from the Finnish front were that the new offensive had detracted nothing from the drive toward Helsinki and liberation of the Leningrad-Murmansk railway. Progress was reported in all fighting areas, with the Finns apparently still unable to hold the Russian advance.

On the central front where the Russians have been across the highway from Vitebsk to the German-held fortress of Orsha, the Red army surged forward and cut the railway.

Operations in this sector across the Nazi communications appeared to be outflanking Vitebsk—so badly that the big Nazi garrison has no railways into the city.

(The German radio said the Russians, using 11 divisions, have broken into German positions on both sides of Vitebsk, and "heavy fighting goes on with the Russians attempting to encircle the town.")

Military observers in Moscow point out this is probably the first phase of Russia's summer offensive. The Reds' tactics lately have been based on attrition—striking hard at one point, then when the Germans shifted to meet the attack, hitting elsewhere.

Jap Flat-Top K.O.'d By U. S. Submarine

By VERN HAUGLAND
Associated Press War Editor

Catching one of Japan's most carefully-guarded warships in a vulnerable position, an American submarine shot three torpedoes into the 28,000-ton, 800-foot Japanese aircraft carrier during the battle of the Marianas Sunday and probably sent her to the bottom.

The mighty flat-top was one of those commissioned before the Pearl Harbor attack, the Navy said in announcing this newest of a series of staggering blows at the enemy's fleet. The carrier "is regarded as probably sunk," the Navy added.

The Navy also disclosed a Jap destroyer, previously listed as damaged by American carrier planes Monday, was definitely sunk.

FLEET RETURNS

War correspondents on Saipan island, where the Americans have established a firm foothold in the Marianas, reported units of the American fleet which took part in the sinking of five Japanese ships, including the destroyer and a 19,000-ton carrier, the damaging of 10 other ships and the destruction of 370 planes, had returned to the Marianas to provide the Americans with overwhelming aerial supremacy.

American troops on Saipan advanced a mile into Laulau village on the east coast and probed into the outskirts of Garapan, largest town on the island.

Jap radio, meanwhile, told of new raids this morning upon Iwo in the Bonin island group, 600 miles from Japan, and upon Yap, Palau and Tobi islands yesterday.

JAP NAVY TO ATTACK!

A Domei broadcast said the day of an attack by the entire Jap navy in the Marianas area "is approaching second by second."

In Washington the Navy said submarines recently sank 15 Jap cargo vessels and naval auxiliary. Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced the sinking of an enemy merchantman and five coastal vessels off northwestern Dutch New Guinea.

There was no indication whether the enemy carrier torpedoed by a submarine Sunday was a part of the Jap force which sents its planes against American warships near Guam the same day.

The following day American carrier planes, chasing the enemy fleet, sank a 19,000-ton carrier, a destroyer and three tankers and damaged a battleship, two 19,000-ton carriers, a light carrier, a cruiser and five other ships.

BALA, Pa., June 24 (AP)—On D-Day plus one, the morning after invasion forces landed in France, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took time to write 12-year-old Kenneth Tomb that he was complying with the boy's request for a shoulder insignia.

Fascist News Writers In Rome to Be Banned

ROME, June 24 (AP)—Lt. Col. Charles Poletti of the Allied military government in Italy has ordered a purge of Roman newspapermen with Fascist records and has appointed Senator Alberto Bergamini to carry it out and submit a list of journalists now qualified to practice their profession.

Poletti said he noticed several newspapermen with Fascist records present at his first conference for Italian journalists Thursday.

U. S. THUNDERBOLT BASE IN FRANCE, June 24 (AP)—An Army cook in a million is Corp. Harry G. Lamotte, 16 Maynard st., Springfield, Mass. His mess likes his grub.

By special request and by special plane he arrived here today to cook for the 60 airmen whose chow he formerly prepared in England.

"They been eating rough over here and they asked the C. O. to have me sent over," he grinned. "Heh, heh. Sent a special plane for me. I was the sole passenger. They like my cooking.

"But I sure hope the boys got something for me to cook. I didn't bring anything."

Death Toll In Tornado Is Now 133

PITTSBURGH, June 24 (AP)—Mounting reports of death and destruction in the tornado which tore with ruinous fury through parts of Pennsylvania and West Virginia sent the death toll to at least 133 today while more victims were sought in wrecked communities.

In West Virginia, the death list stood at 95 and in Pennsylvania at 35, with hundreds injured and many others homeless along a narrow twisting path mainly in rural areas.

Maryland also reported three killed and about 20 injured in the Garrett county area when the twister crossed from adjoining West Virginia.

Red Cross workers at Pittsburgh estimated the damage would run into millions of dollars.

Scores were reported missing from homes demolished by a sudden, deadly, swirling wind which last night spent its fury on towns, villages, and farm and coal country from the outskirts of Pittsburgh more than 100 miles into West Virginia.

Authorities feared the list of dead would increase as rescuers battled their way through wreckage.

At dawn, 10 hours after a funnel-shaped cloud descended first on Pennsylvania and then on its neighboring state, rescue squads redoubled their efforts to find bodies.

Every hour brought reports of death and destruction in new sections of West Virginia. The death toll there rose steadily this morning from 53 to 95.

31 DEAD IN PENNSYLVANIA

In Pennsylvania 31 were reported dead in rural areas from McKeesport, near Pittsburgh, to the state line near Waynesburg. Pittsburgh itself was not hit.

Hundreds were made homeless as whole blocks in some communities were leveled. Hospitals were filled with injured.

Worst hit apparently was the little town of Shinnston, a coal town of 2800 a dozen miles from Clarksburg, W. Va. A Red Cross representative reported 58 bodies had been recovered.

The representative, Mrs. Lola Heavner, said possibly a hundred persons still were unaccounted for.

Capt. Dorsey Bailey of the West Virginia state police said:

"We are certain to find more bodies."

Hospitals all over West Virginia sent blood plasma to Shinnston and one allotment was flown to the city from Charleston, the capital.

The Red Cross immediately sent disaster relief crews with blood plasma, medical supplies, food and cots for the injured and homeless.

FAMILIES TRAPPED

The devastation was terrific. Striking at nightfall, the storm trapped many families in their homes. Through the night, rescue workers dug by the light of flashlight and torch to extricate the dead and injured from the ruins.

WINDSTORM—Map shows path (shaded area) of windstorm that first struck in the (1) Pittsburgh-McKeesport section, then cut southward to (2) Shinnston, where it hit hardest.

The storm was described by A. D. Johnson of McKeesport as a white whirlwind shape: "I saw at least a dozen houses blown right off their foundations," he said.

It was estimated at least 100 homes in the McKeesport area were demolished and hundreds more weer unroofed or damaged.

KANSAS TWISTER

Don Potter, Monongahela, W. Va., power company manager, said:

"It was a regular Kansas twister, funnel-shaped with limbs and sticks floating around in its middle. It was a greasy green color and lazy looking."

More than 400 were believed injured in Shinnston, W. Va., and three surrounding counties, and ambulance drivers, frantically trying to get over blocked roads, said they had reports of bodies along the roads.

School Superintendent A. V. Upton of Harrison County, W. Va. returning home after an outing at a suburban lake last evening, heard his small son call to him on the approach of the storm:

"Daddy, there's a tornado."

Upton, amazed, told his son, "That couldn't be in West Virginia," adding:

"But there it was, a long funnel over the hills several miles from us."

Reaching Shinnston shortly after the storm, Upton said:

"It cut a path possibly one-quarter mile wide, levelling all the houses it touched and threw some of them into the West Fork river. There were reports of one house in the stream with seven bodies in it. Many of the bodies recovered were badly mangled.

"I'm afraid there are at least 60 dead in the area around Shinnston and nearby. Rescue work is under control. There are two National Guard outfits, the Red Cross, Civilian Defense and State Police on the job."

FAMILY WIPED OUT

Tragedy paid its last call at the home of Stephen Barnish in Chartiers, Pa. Barnish was killed in the mine explosion here a couple weeks ago and last night the widow and two children were killed by the storm. There were

Japs Hiding Out In Saipan Caves

By RICHARD W. JOHNSTON
Representing Combined American Press

ABOARD A JOINT EXPEDITIONARY FLAGSHIP, Saipan, June 24 (June 23 U. S. time) (via Navy radio) (AP)—Invading American troops have reached Laulau on Saipan's east coast while others have probed into the suburbs of Garapan, the island's biggest town, with virtually no opposition.

Around volcanic Mt. Tapotchau, the Yanks clawed their way up steep jungled cliffs in the most savage terrain encountered in the Pacific war since the battle of Attu in the Aleutians.

The one-mile advance into Laulau on the east coast above Magicienne bay came after the entire southwestern sector of the island below captured Aslito airdrome had been turned into a mighty artillery base which is hurling shells day and night into Japanese positions in the mountain slopes.

JAPS FLEE TO CAVES

Sitting in a forward battalion command post almost directly above Garapan, I watched the artillery bombardment play along higher cliffs like a giant hammer. The Japs have fallen back on densely-foliaged ravines and numerous limestone caves.

One member of a patrol which entered Garapan's suburbs returned riding a Jap bicycle. In the city's business district only chalky white walls rise here and there among the rubble.

The Japs are abandoning stores of food and ammunition. Most enemy guns have been silenced and the Japs have not attempted any massed infantry defense. Even where tanks were sent out in strength, the Japs failed to follow up with co-ordinated foot-soldier drives.

As a result, the coastal plain is littered with burned-out Japanese tanks.

STILL TOUGHEST ISLAND

The return of U. S. carrier-borne aircraft to this area after their smashing victory against the Jap navy has given American invaders overwhelming aerial supremacy.

There is excellent morale. Many wounded officers and men evacuated to hospital ships earlier are rejoining their units.

The Japs are making this the toughest Pacific island to be won thus far. The terrain and jungle growth make it possible for the enemy to fight a strong rear-guard action without major losses and it is safe to say the main battle for Saipan is still to come.

Civilian Jap prisoners huddle in temporary stockades on the American beachhead, hardly noticing the endless movement of men, tanks and guns in their misery.

Japanese women sit with gaunt, tired faces but without tears. One has picked a shell crater in which to nurse her child.

The children, most of them too young to realize what is happening, whimper for food and water—which they get.

Most civilians are short and wiry, either of Japanese or native Chamorro origin.

Care of Saipan's civilians promises to be a huge job, considering the island's 1938 population included more than 25,000 Japanese and 3200 natives.

Wounded civilians are geting medical attention as fast as they are brought in. Women line up for rations of fresh water, something none of us have enough of. Food is handed out from captured stocks.

Sad Welcome

McKEESPORT, Pa., June 24 (INS)—Pvt. Harold Williams came home on furlough last night to be with his wife, Rita, 13, an expectant mother.

Not until he got to his home in Port Vue could he understand why she hadn't met him at the railroad station.

Dewey-Warren Choice On 1st Ballot Now Seen

By WILLIAM THEIS

CHICAGO, June 24 (INS)—The carefully nurtured "draft Dewey" campaign blossomed into a draft-Dewey-Warren drive today as the heavy vote delegations began piling into Chicago for Monday's opening of the 1944 Republican convention.

The dual push to give Gov. Dewey of New York a first ballot nomination for the presidency and make Gov. Warren of California his running mate was boosted by early arriving members of the 50-vote California delegation.

Spokesman for the group said California was ready to go for Dewey as a unit and, as the first large delegation in the roll call, start a stampede carrying the "unannounced" candidate to victory.

In the words of a prominent Pennsylvanian leading the Keystone state's 70 delegates into this convention city for their caucus tomorrow night:

"Pennsylvania will have its only chance to cast its vote Sunday night."

His observation was meant to convey that before Dewey-minded Pennsylvania is reached in the call of states next Wednesday night Gov. Dewey will be "in" on a tide of votes swelled by California's 50, Illinois' 59, New York's 93 and the contributions of smaller states.

California stands fourth in the polling list of states, preceded by Alabama, Arizona and Arkansas, all expected to be for Dewey. The three states have a total of 34 votes. A California plunge for Dewey with its 50 votes, the Warren people pointed out, would set the pace for a first ballot nomination.

Warren, it was widely and reliably reported on the pre-convention scene, will accept a vice-presidential nomination despite his insistence again today his name not be presented and that the California delegates not vote for him for either place on the ticket.

The California Governor is the Dewey camp's first choice for a running mate. Gov. Bricker of Ohio, whose managers insist he will win the presidential nomination on the third or fourth ballot, is second choice with the New Yorkers.

Both the Bricker backers and the managers for Lt. Com. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota stood firm in their declarations that both would be in the nominating and that neither would withdraw in advance.

Members of the Dewey and Bricker factions today discounted reports from Washington that a movement was under way to nominate Senator Byrd, Democrat, of Virginia, for vice-president.

Rumors persisted without confirmation that a deal was in the making for the GOP convention to name Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois for second place on the ticket.

SEES VICTORY—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, Republican presidential candidate, converses with his campaign manager, Rep. Clarence J. Brown, in Chicago after Brown stated that Bricker was likely to be nominated on the "third or fourth ballot."

Dewey Woman Aide Is Cabinet Possibility

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Special to the Boston Evening American

CHICAGO, June 23—I have again discovered that covering a National political convention can be a major job if you do it properly. I wore no pedometer on my high heeled shoes but I'll bet I walked at least 20 miles through hotel corridors and lobbies and in and out of conference and assembly rooms just to find out what was going on behind the scenes.

I met a lot of interesting people and some that were not so interesting.

To my mind the kingpin of the women politicians I have met is Mary H. Donlon, vice-chairman of the Resolutions Committee and a potent personality in the counsels of the GOP. Miss Donlon, a lawyer was recently appointed by Gov. Dewey as chairman of the New York State Industrial Board.

POINTED FOR CABINET

She is in a fair way to become a member of the Cabinet should Dewey be elected President—and at this early stage of the game he seems to be assured of the Republican nomination. The Republicans I have met seem to have no lack of faith in Dewey. They are convinced that he can win hands down against Roosevelt if the President runs for 16 years in the White House.

To get back to Miss Donlon, she is a plumpish woman of middle years with a warm smile and loads of personality. She wore a purple linen dress, embroidered with violets, and looked as fresh as a daisy at the end of a hectic session of the Resolutions Committee at which she presided in the absence of Sen. Robert Taft.

I was highly amused at the way Miss Donlon pulled the stop watch on several of the long-winded gents who spoke far beyond their allotted time. However, she did it so graciously I don't think any of them knew they were being told to cut it short.

The younger generation is capably represented at the convention by Paulina Longworth, charming and self-possessed young daughter of Alice Roosevelt Longworth and granddaughter of the late President Theodore Roosevelt. She unquestionably is the bobby-socks queen of this gathering. She says she is 19 but she looks about 14.

There was one place, however, where the men really dominated. I happened to wander into a Harold Stassen meeting and found myself the only woman among 125 newspaper men and correspondents from all over the country.

I had an interesting luncheon with Senator Eugene Milliken of Colorado but I had a hard time trying to get anything out of him because Gracie Allen kept him too busy telling him about the clothes she is planning to wear when the convention opens.

Leon Henderson, New Deal Democrat, wandered over to our table and said: "Watch. There will be an undercurrent for Wendell Willkie." But I don't know whether we should pay any attention to a Democrat at a Republican convention.

Fits Dewey

CHICAGO, June 24 (INS)—The podium at the Chicago Stadium has been hand-tailored for the benefit of Governor Dewey, it was learned today.

The speaking platform was ordered fixed by GOP bigwigs so that 5 foot 8 inch or less Dewey won't look like a little-wig when he delivers his speech accepting the nomination for the presidency.

Davenport May Bolt GOP

HARTFORD, Ct., June 24 (INS)—Russell W. Davenport, director of Wendell Willkie's 1940 campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, threatened to bolt the party today unless it takes a strong stand for world freedom.

"I demand for my party a platform without a single hedge, without a single quaver, on the issue of America's future role in the world," he asserted at a meeting sponsored by the Hartford committee for British, Chinese and Russian relief.

"I feel confident that I speak for millions of Republicans and independents when I say that if my party fails me in this, the fundamental issue of our time, I will not support it," said Davenport.

Stassen Backers Deny Coalition

CHICAGO, June 24 (INS)—Denying any coalition plans, Stassen-for-President headquarters reiterated today the young naval officer's name would be placed in nomination at the GOP convention.

The announcement was designed to spike rumors Lt. Com. Harold E. Stassen's backers would join forces with Governor Bricker of Ohio in an attempt to halt a first-ballot stampede to Governor Dewey.

The announcement was made by Dr. R. C. Radabaugh of Minnesota, national chairman of Stassen's campaign organization.

The former Minnesota governor has only 35 assured votes so far, it was learned.

Whole Class See Teacher Wed

Today was the wedding day of a Revere school teacher, but it was also another big occasion for her.

Edwina Finn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Finn of Beach st., Revere, held her last class yesterday at Liberty School. She invited her 30 third-grade pupils to the wedding.

They sat solemnly in church, displaying the good manners Miss Finn had taught them, and when the bride smiled at them coming down the aisle, the little girls wept at the beauty of their beloved teacher.

As they watched her leave for the reception at the Hotel Sheraton, one boy shouted!

"Good-by, Miss Finn! I'm going to marry a girl just like you!"

She became the bride of Thomas B. McCaulliffe of Washington st., Dorchester. The bridegroom is a teacher of Industrial Arts at Lewis School, Roxbury.

Rev. John D. McEachern celebrated the nuptial mass, with Fr. Bernard J. McNulty of St. Gregory's Church, Dorchester, assisting.

Prowlers Stir Kidnap Fears

Fear for their children weighed on the minds of Scituate and Norwell mothers today, two weeks after 10-year-old Frances McGrath was slain, as reports of prowlers caused anxiety lest other girls meet the same fate.

Following yesterday's disclosure that Ida Henderson, 16, of Cross ts., Norwell, had been abducted in an automobile by two men from whom she escaped by hurling herself out of the car, came another revelation.

Lila Murray, 16, of Central st., Norwell, said she had been frightened Sunday night by a prowler. She was in the home of a Summer st., Norwell, couple, taking care of their children, when she heard stealthy movements outside the house.

PROWLER TAKES FLIGHT

A dog inside began to bark. The girl peered out cautiously, but could see no one. The sounds ceased, then resumed. Nervous because of the McGrath case, the girl telephoned her mother, Mrs. Joseph Murray, who went to the house. Her husband followed shortly.

They all sat in the house quietly to await developments. Sounds of the stealthy footsteps were heard again. They heard a low voice saying, "Sh-h-h! Keep quiet."

Murray ran to investigate, but the prowler disappeared. The parents were particularly concerned because their daughter, some time ago, had been called on the telephone by someone with a mental quirk for hurling profane language at high school girls.

Another development in the McGrath case today was the arrival in Scituate of a Brockton man who conferred at length with Police Chief Michael Stewart. Beyond admitting it was in connection with the murder investigation he would not talk to newspapermen.

The chief also was mum in the matter. However, it is known Dist. Atty. Edmund R. Dewing recently visited Brockton in connection with the probe. One of the earliest clues came from a Brockton resident who said she heard a child's screams coming from an automobile several hours after Frances McGrath vanished the night of June 10.

Dewing has issued another appeal for public cooperation in solving the murder mystery.

He asked owners who have not opened their places for the season to go to Scituate and inspect them, on the theory one such cottage may have been used in the McGrath child's abduction and slaying.

Police believe that 10-year-old Frances, from the time she vanished from the Scituate Harbor bowling alley at about 9:15 on the stormy night of June 10, was held captive for about four days before she was murdered by her sex-crazed abductor.

$1500.00 Reward

Rewards totaling $1500 in War Bonds will be paid for exclusive information to the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser leading to the apprehension of the slayer of 10-year-old Frances McGrath, whose battered body was found last Friday.

These papers offered the first $1000 in War Bonds and an additional $500 was offered by a reader, who asked that his identity remain confidential.

Evicted Navy Wife Gets Malden Home

Within two hours of the time movers were scheduled to begin taking her furniture out of her Highland ave., Everett, home, Mrs. Mae Weddleton, 27-year-old Navy wife and mother of two children, obtained new quarters through the sympathy and consideration of a Malden war worker.

She quickly accepted the offer of an apartment owned by Albert G. Wallace of Oliver st., Malden, who learned of her plight from a story in the Boston Evening American yesterday.

"Thank heaven! I didn't know what we were going to do," exclaimed Mrs. Weddleton after Wallace offered the apartment.

Mrs. Weddleton and her sons, Bobby, 4, and Dicky, 2, were ordered out of the house by the landlord who said he wanted the apartment for himself and his wife.

THOUGHT OF OWN FAMILY

The little family's new home will be in Wyeth st., Malden. Wallace, one of dozens who responded to the mother's plea for help, said he hurried from work in the Boston Navy Yard to make his offer.

"All I could think of was my own five kids and how I'd hate to have anything like that happen to them," Wallace said.

The Malden apartment, presently occupied by Wallace's brother-in-law, will be vacant next week. Meanwhile, Wallace arranged for Mrs. Weddleton to move her belongings into one room of the house to await departure of the present tenants.

Until next Friday Mrs. Weddleton and her two youngsters will live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand of Revere st., Revere.

Dudley Weddleton, 27, a machinist's mate temporarily on duty at Quonset Naval Station, obtained an emergency pass when he learned of his wife's predicament. He spent the few hours allowed him helping her in a tour of the many places offered by kind residents of Greater Boston.

When Wallace's offer was received, Weddleton left immediately to return to his post in Rhode Island.

The eviction notice was served on the Weddletons by Constable Theophile Morin of Walnut st., Everett, by order of the landlord, Oscar DeBenedictus of Chelsea st., Everett. DeBenedictus said he needed the place himself because his present quarters had been rented.

Pilot Training Cut By Navy

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—With casualties in aerial combat one-third less than had been anticipated, the Navy reported today it "must reduce substantially" the pilot training program.

Because of the lowered needs, a Navy statement said, it will be necessary to discontinue training of "many cadets at the pre-flight stage." It was learned the reduction will be about 50 per cent.

The Navy said it hoped a majority of cadets affected would remain in the aeronautical organization, either as combat air crewmen or as seamen on new carriers. Those with previous training in the V-12 program will be given opportunity to complete the training and may be commissioned in Navy non-aviation branches.

Those with two years of college training will be given opportunity to train as reserve midshipmen with ultimate commission as deck officers. Also, the Navy said, each cadet will be permitted, if he wishes, to serve in enlisted capacity in non-aviation duty, or to withdraw from the service.

Rocket Bombs Are Flash Gordon Stuff

By LORELLE HEARST
Special Correspondent, N. Y. Journal-American

LONDON, June 24—If you had been in the southern part of England for the last few days, you would never doubt our American comic strip "Flash Gordon" again.

GETS TOP MEDAL—Newest winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest military award, is Lt. Nathan G. Gordon, Navy flier from Morrilton, Ark. He landed his Catalina flying boat in Kavieng harbor in the face of Jap fire to rescue 15 Yank airmen. Associated Press Wirephoto

These rocket planes that have been falling in this part of England for several days are the very things we have seen in our comic strips for years.

I was in the country Saturday and Sunday and they were coming over our heads all day and night.

FAMOUS BEAUTY

I was a guest of a friend named Pat who has a divine little cottage which is very homey and comfortable.

She works in a factory during the week, gets up at six o'clock and is at her job by 7:30.

She is a famous beauty with a vital personality and the most infectious laugh I have ever known.

As we were having dinner one of these rocket bombs landed near us. The house shook so hard we nearly fell off our chairs.

The cook came running to us beside herself saying:

"Madam, the thing was right over our heads. We could see it very plainly and almost touch it."

We went over to the place in the field where it had landed and saw a huge crater. Thank the lucky stars it had not hit anyone.

HOUSE SHIMMIES

We were no sooner back in the house when we heard another one going overhead. When it hit it went off with a blood-curdling noise and the whole house did a shimmie.

Everyone just looked at each other then started talking very loud and sort of pretended nothing had happened.

Under our breath we muttered, "by golly, that was very near," and figured how lucky we were that our name was not on it.

Everyone says it is not like the blitz days when they had an alert for maybe an hour and then it was over for a while.

This thing goes on all day and night. It really gives one a fantastic feeling to see such a horrible thing flying through the air.

These rockets look like a small plane with fire spitting out of the tail going a mile a minute at a very low altitude.

No one knows why the Germans are doing this. The reason can't be any special target because they land anywhere.

One guess is to tear down morale. Well, they are never going to be able to do that.

Weekend Halt In Noxon Trial

By PAULINE WARREN

PITTSFIELD, June 24—The trial of John F. Noxon, Jr., charged with murder in the death of his baby son, today was in weekend recess following appearance of Dr. Milton Halpern, a New York expert who has performed 7500 autopsies.

The defense expert, who has handled 150 accidents electrocutions in the last 13 years as New York city medical examiner, testified that a big safety pin, used in the baby's diapers, could have carried an electrical charge which produced the much-discussed "dumbbell" burns found on his arm.

Under cross-examination by Dist. Atty. Charles Alberti, however, Dr. Halpern stated that if the pin caused the burn marks there would have to be a gap in one line on the baby's arm to account for the part of the pin inserted in the diaper.

Bowdoin Honors Halifax and 18

BRUNSWICK, Me., June 24 (INS)—Lord Halifax, British Ambassador to the United States, and Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone of the Supreme Court were awarded Honorary Doctorates of Laws today by Bowdoin College.

The same degree was awarded President Martin Hopkins of Dartmouth College, Gov. Sumner Sewell of Maine and Francis B. Sayre, former high commissioner in the Philippines.

They were among 18 distinguished persons honored with degrees at Bowdoin's sesquicentennial and commencement exercises.

Lord Halifax predicted to fliers of his own nation and America that "it won't be long before we see the end of the war."

Advertiser Editor In Eighth Air Force

By HUCK FINNEGAN

The Eighth Air Force has been publicized enough, Lord knows, but a fellow can't traipse around Britain without saying "Hello" to an old pal like Red Bowman—and Red happens to be with the Eighth Air Force.

The marker on his desk reads: Capt. Marvin S. Bowman. As Group Intelligence Officer he briefs missions, interrogates the fliers upon their return. It's a weighty job. Yet Red makes light of his onerous duties, and if he's changed one iota from his days as Boston's Sunday Advertiser editor, it isn't visible to the naked eye.

He has added to his storehouse of limericks with which he regales his companions at mess. But whereas Pawtucket and such provincial spots used to be the site of his rhythmic themes, the locale has been shifted to "Etousa" (European Theater of Operations, U. S. Army). In addition he finds time to sing bass in the glee club, and not long back herded his troupe into London for a concert. "We lost our best baritone over Germany recently," says Red, "so the concerts are out for a while."

HAILED AS GOOD JOE

He is held in high repute by his fellow officers, and the GI's, to whom he reviews the news once a week, hail him as a good Joe, a superlative compliment.

The wiry, bespectacled redhead has plenty on the ball. He doesn't divulge his age but the records say he graduated from Harvard in '16 along with Eddie Mahan, Tack Hardwick, R. Norris Williams, 2nd, Bill Bingham et al. And he has a 23-year-old son who is radio operator on a tanker in the Pacific.

Capt. Marvin S. Bowman — Huck Finnegan

Red was old enough to participate in the last war and did—serving seven months overseas as a pilot in the air force. "Our base was Claremont-Ferrand," says he, "and I had an eerie feeling the other day when we sent our bombers over to wipe it out. Like bombing the old homestead."

WITH COMBAT GROUP

Red's too old to fly in this war but he did the next best thing. He got himself attached to a combat group . . . a group of hard-hitting youngsters who already have won four DSC's and 20 Silver Stars. Their average age is 22-23, and their commanding officer, Lt.-Col. Thomas S. Jeffrey, is only 27.

Much was made of the Memphis Belle when it toured the states after completing 25 missions. Red's group recently sent back to the states a ship called Squawk and Hawk which had completed 50 missions. Red's autograph is among the hundreds thereon. Look for it.

Squawk and Hawk's pilot is still operating here. His name is Sumner L. Deeder, a St. Louis boy who holds the rank of major and who already has won the DSC. At 24! Verily, this air war is for young men.

WANTS TO BE PILOT

As proof of this consider two men in Capt. Bowman's outer office. Capt. Paul F. Mackesey, 120 Woodlawn st., Lynn, and Lt. Francis J. King, 2 Hitchcock rd., Worcester.

Mackesey, 33, is a giant of a man. Bostonians will recall him as Brown's '31 football captain, mentioned honorably as AP all-America and a Hearst all-New England tackle. He's strong enough today to break you in pieces with his hands—but he's too old to fly.

A lawyer in civilian life (BU law '35), the Army makes good use of his talents in the intelligence dept. Yet Mackesey is yearning to be a combat pilot.

So, too, is King, a handsome chap of 34 who looks 25. King was a football, baseball and track standout at Worcester South and Worcester Academy, played quarterback with Cliff Montgomery on the Columbia team that beat Stanford 7-0 in the Rose Bowl. He played left field on Columbia's intercollegiate baseball championship team, too.

He's perhaps the best all-round athlete in camp—handball, softball, boxing, etc.—yet he's "too old to fly." It gripes him.

DOUBLE TALKER

It's a strong army that can afford to keep men of their stature on the ground—a happy portent of an early return home.

King is a master at double talk, and when duties lighten late in the day his answers to couriers are classics.

A fellow who subbed for Montgomery as long as King ordinarily would hold a grudge against his coach, but King eulogizes Columbia's Lou Little. "He keeps in touch with all his former pupils, asking them if they are happy in their job; if not, can he help them to a better one."

King and Montgomery, in fact, worked together for the Grace Line after graduation. King's

Lt. Francis J. King

Capt. Paul F. Mackesey

father, a police officer in Worcester for 24 years, died in Francis' soph year at Columbia.

His brother Jimmy, 26, is a first lieutenant in the paratroopers. His sister Mary Helen is married to Maj. Seborn C. Dale, now with the medical corps in New Guinea.

King's backfield coach at Columbia was Herb Kopf, new Boston pro coach.

WAS LYNN LAWYER

Mackesey played the other tackle to Warren McGuirk on the great Pere Marquette elevens of the early '30's. Teammates were Billy O'Leary, Tony Plansky, Al Weston, John De Venuti, Dartmouth's Paul Creehan.

Mackesey married Sallie O'Donahue, a Philadelphia girl. His parents, Frank P. and Mary, still live in Lynn, where he practiced law before entering the Army.

"Last football game I saw? . . . Let's see . . . Brown-Colgate of '41."

Mackesey was a member of the intercollegiate Football Board of Officials . . . He went to Officer Candidate School with Clark Gable at Miami.

Tomorrow:

Citation day at the air base and a Wellesley boy is honored! At other camps Roxbury, New Bedford and Keene, N. H. boys are interviewed. See Huck Finnegan's article in Monday's American.

119 Graduate At Radcliffe

In a unique wartime commencement, 119 Radcliffe College graduates today received congratulations instead of diplomas. The diplomas will be mailed next week.

Names of the graduates were read in First Church, Cambridge, by Mildred P. Sherman, newly appointed dean, during which each was congratulated by President W. K. Jordan.

Many members of the graduating class were unable to attend because of wartime duties. About 15 per cent of them are married.

Already, 11 seniors have signed up to join the WAVES.

The commencement exercises will be followed by a garden party at Greenleaf House, the home of President and Mrs. W. K. Jordan, and the alumnae dinner will be held in the ballroom of the Copley-Plaza.

WAR BOND MESSAGE

(in dots and dashes)

— •••• • •—• —• •• T-H-E W-A-R

Right now, Tom Blake wishes someone else were station agent . . . wishes Centerville had a separate telegraph office . . . wishes anything that would keep him from having to translate those chill, metallic taps into their terribly familiar words.

Maybe it's easier in the city, where a name in a telegram is just a name . . . not someone you've seen grow up from a freckle-faced kid who used to hang around the depot watching the trains.

Sometimes that phrase is addressed to an elm-shaded mansion on the hill . . . sometimes to a cottage the other side of the tracks. It doesn't matter. The stricken look on a woman's face stays with you just the same.

When will those dread telegrams cease? Not until this war is won. And it cannot be won without our unflagging support. That is why each brief, tragic message . . . to anyone, anywhere . . . is a War Bond message to you.

Sixteen billion extra dollars are needed in War Bonds now. It means investing twice as much as you did before. But what of it? After all, four dollars to use freely in a free world are better than three spent now. And no sacrifice is too much that keeps even one telegram from beginning . . . Thousands in Holyoke for VFW Parade

HOLYOKE, June 24—With more than 600 delegates already present, thousands of members and friends of the Veterans of Foreign Wars streamed into this city today for the annual encampment parade.

Military, patriotic and civic organizations of Holyoke and surrounding communities will be in the line of march. The annual military ball will be held tonight in Memorial building.

During the first day of business sessions, the VFW veterans were insistent that the government stop coddling prisoners of war. They passed a resolution that this country cease treating such prisoners as distinguished guests, many of whom are better fed and clothed than our own servicemen, and stop taking them on sightseeing tours and to public functions.

Another resolution proposed a 500-bed hospital between Springfield and Worcester so that veterans of the area would not have to go to Boston or New York for treatment.

The veterans also called for assignment of a national cemetery to Massachusetts and for centralization of the Boston facilities of the Veterans' Administration, which now has administrative offices in the Federal building and hospital beds in West Roxbury.

The encampment, together with the annual convention of the auxiliary closes tomorrow with election of officers.

Opera House Show Seen Bond Booster

Greater Boston theater-goers, attending three special showings of Ralph Edwards' Truth or Consequences program at the Boston Opera House this afternoon and tonight, are counted on to boost the Fifth War Loan total by $2,000,000, the State War Finance Committee announced today.

Tabulations today of the first 10 days of the drive showed Massachusetts was keeping pace with the rest of the nation with E bond sales amounting to $23,500,000, or 21 per cent, of the state's E bond goal of $112,000,000. Overall sales total $157,700,000, or 21 per cent. of the state's $828,000,000 quota.

The Truth or Consequences showings today, with the purchase of a bond the only ticket of admission, are scheduled at 2:30, 7:45, and 10:15 p. m.

In Weymouth, Post No. 79, American Legion, is assuming responsibility for raising the town's $305,000 E bond quota. Proceeds will be used to sponsor an Overseas Hospital Service train and a Hospital Service plane to bear the name of the town.

Tonight the "battle of banquets" takes place in Winchester, Mass., and Winchester, Va. For 1000 War Bond buyers of Winchester, Mass., Aunt Susan Tokes, with the assistance of Miss Jennie Tokes, both from Winchester, Va., will prepare an outdoor ham and chicken fry.

New England hospitality to Virginia will take the form of a Saturday night baked bean supper in the southern community, prepared by Mrs. Norman C. Hitchcock and Mrs. Leigh Roberts of Winchester, Mass. Admission to the banquets will be by War Bond purchase only, with each community seeking to raise the larger sum.

NORTHERN BRITISH NAVAL BASE, June 24 (AP)—Forty-two thousand tons of German shipping and a 600-ton German naval vessel were sunk and damaged by the royal Norwegian submarine Ula during recent operations in Norwegian waters, it was reported today.

The Ula headed in, cockily flying from her bridge a Jolly Roger of skull and crossbones decorated with eight white stripes, showing merchant vessels sunk; one red stripe for a naval vessel and two daggers for special operations thus far a secret. The Ula was undamaged.

City in Mop-up Paper Collection

Striving desperately to boost tonnage, salvage officials today ordered a general mop-up collection of waste paper and scrap tin throughout the city.

Donations in the last four wards, including Jamaica Plain, West Roxbury, Roslindale, Allston and Brighton, produced 339,800 pounds of paper and 91,500 pounds of tin, but the paper pick-ups were well under those of a month ago when 440,800 pounds were collected.

The five-day drive for the whole city netted 1,215,595 pounds of paper and 389,700 pounds of tin.

Once more, Ward 20 led the city, giving 175,000 pounds of paper and 33,100 pounds of tin. Included among those who were awarded $25 war bonds for donations were William J. Hughes, Hill st.; Mrs. J. "Which one of you is the injured man?"

4 Bands to Feature INVASION SHOW

Stirring music by four big service bands will be an added feature at the INVASION BOND SHOW in Charles River Basin July 4, it was announced today.

Three of the bands will be stationed on the Esplanade throughout the three-hour program, while the fourth, the crack U. S. Coast Guard band of the port of Boston, led by Warrant Officer John A. Jacobson, will play on a moving barge in the Basin.

The job of stage manager for the spectacle is being filled by Lt. Col. Walter Brown, public relations officer of the First Service Command.

Whipping up a spectacle for the public is nothing new for Col. Brown. He had acquired a national reputation as a promoter, before entering the Army. His vision and daring in many of the big productions at the Boston Garden amazed even the most venturesome of veteran producers.

Only persons holding tickets issued on purchase of war bonds between June 12 and July 3, will be admitted to the reserved area on the Esplanade, which will be roped off and policed by 1000 members of the State Guard. The general public will be welcome to view the spectacle from the Cambridge side and from bridges and the un-restricted area on the Boston side of the river.

Japs Closing In On Hengyang

By Associated Press

Bad was the news today from Asia, where the Japanese were closing in on the rail junction of Hengyang in an effort to drive a wedge through China.

Fighter planes of the 14th Army Air Force struck heavily against the Japanese in the Hengyang area, probably destroying a troop-laden river steamer at Chuchow, and attacking cavalry and foot troops near Siangtan.

An estimated 120,000 Japanese were reported driving southward from Changsha on a 100-mile front, and there was fighting in Hengshan, only 25 miles northeast of Hengyang.

In India British forces regained control of the Kohima-Imphal highway, reopening land communications with Manipur State and relieving the Imphal garrison

Price Ceilings-- But No Jeeps

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration is ready with price ceilings for 1941 used "jeeps," but there's no indication when the Army's popular little reconnaissance cars will be sold to the public.

A three-year-old model sold "as is" this year would cost approximately $600, plus transportation. Reconditioned, and sold with a guarantee, it would cost about $750, plus transportation.

'Sea Mule' New U. S. Invasion Weapon

A BRITISH PORT, June 24 (AP)—American invasion forces have come through with another odd weapon—the "sea mule."

This craft is used for pushing and towing. It takes the place of a tug, but is more maneuverable, and very cheap to build. It is shipped across the ocean in five parts and assembled at invasion ports.

It has a two-foot draft, carries a five-man crew, has two powerful engines and is virtually unsinkable.

Tornado

eight known dead and 40 to 50 homes destroyed.

At Versailles Borough, Pa., a woman reported $1600 in currency which she had withdrawn from a bank yesterday blew into the air along with the wreckage of her home. Rescue workers retrieved about $1400 and gave it back to her.

At Waynesburg, Pa., surgeons worked in an emergency hospital by flashlight to ease the suffering of victims in the darkened city. All electric power was shut down there last night.

Glenn Arnold, who was driving on a road near Clarksville, Pa., reported:

"I saw 14 dead at Clarksville. We carried them into the Union Hall. There were more than 100 injured."

Hospitals presented tragic scenes. Hundreds of men, women and children filled the 325-room McKeesport Hospital to overflowing. Children cried and moaned. Some people lay on the floor, some sat up and others just leaned against the walls—but nearly everybody had a bandage on. Nurses said they never saw anything like it.

HUNT FOR BODIES

By ambulance, commandeered cars and trucks the injured came to hospitals in the area.

Crewmen for the West Virginia Road Commission reported "there are bodies up the hollows and over the hills that will not be found for hours."

There were 167 patients in hospitals at Fairmont and Clarksburg, W. Va., alone, in addition to others in hospitals at Mannington, Philippi, Elkins and Grafton.

A big compressor station of the Hope Natural Gas Co. at Boothsville, W. Va., was lifted and "literally thrown against the next hill," one witness said.

The storm, which followed by a few hours a flash flood at nearby Salem, W. Va., is of a type almost unknown in mountainous West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Its path of destruction was seldom over a quarter-mile wide, but as it passed it turned homes and buildings into kindling.

A large percentage of the dead and injured were children, who had gone to bed for the night and were trapped in their rooms.

Nashua Man Killed By Car in Tyngsboro

TYNGSBORO, June 24 (AP)—William P. Drowns, of 357 Main st., Nashua, N. H., was killed almost instantly when struck by an automobile while he was changing a tire on Middlesex rd. about a mile south of the Tyngsboro bridge.

Tyngsboro police Chief John Riley identified the driver of the other automobile as Elmer Dodge, of Frost rd., Tyngsboro.

Real Surgery

WAYNESBURG, Pa., June 24 (INS)—Surgeons worked by flashlight during the night to ease the pain and suffering of victims of the tornado in the Waynesburg area.

Burt Williams, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph photographer, reported that even amputations were performed by flashlights in the state armory, which was transformed into an emergency hospital.

No anesthetics were available, Williams said.

Vote Slackers Menace Democracy

"The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude."—ARTICLE XV OF THE CONSTITUTION.

IN THIS PROVISO the Founding Fathers clearly indicated that the keystone of the government of our democratic Republic rested on the people.

The only concrete way that the people have of expressing their will is through the ballot-box.

This "right" to vote by the people of the United States without regard to race, color or previous condition of servitude had been won for us on the blood-stained battlefields of a great Revolution and in a four-year devastating Civil War.

And yet today there are millions of Americans who think so little of the precious boon of a free ballot, Americans who have so completely forgotten the tragic cost of universal suffrage in their own country that they REFUSE TO VOTE!

The Census Bureau has just published figures that show us that 37.6 per cent of the qualified electors of this nation did NOT go to the polls in the Presidential election of 1940.

That is almost tantamount to CIVIL MUTINY.

It is a direct invitation by more than A THIRD of the qualified voting population of the country to a dictator to announce himself.

It is an indication that more than one out of three of our voters are through with democratic processes.

It is a slap in the face of Uncle Sam.

It is a smear on Old Glory.

In a great State like Illinois ONLY 52 per cent of the electorate voted in 1940, and in California ONLY 47.3 voted.

This is shameful! It is disgraceful!

THE CENSUS BUREAU estimates that more than 88,000,000 persons will be qualified to vote next November.

HOW MANY MILLIONS OF SHIRKERS AND SLACKERS WILL BE RECORDED?

This refusal of millions of our people to exercise a fundamental American right should be a matter for immediate Congressional action.

We suggest that—

A CITIZEN REFUSING TO VOTE FIVE CONSECUTIVE TIMES SHALL LOSE HIS AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP.

A citizen who refuses to vote announces as clearly as if he had cried it aloud that he no longer believes in our form of government.

He deliberately withdraws from our political and social pattern of life.

He has renounced his citizenship.

And the Government should see to it that his privileges as an American citizen are taken from him. He should be branded as a NATIVE NON-CITIZEN.

A man or woman for various reasons over which he or she has no control may find it impossible to get to the polling place once or twice in his or her district.

But to fail FIVE TIMES SUCCESSIVELY to vote reveals a direct intention on his or her part to abandon citizenship rights.

Such a person deserves to be helped out of his citizenship officially by Congress.

The struggle to register the will of the people through the ballot-box is a struggle that has been part of the colossal struggle for individual liberty through the ages.

Millions of Americans have become non-voting reactionaries, according to the figures of the Census Bureau.

They should be penalized.

He or she who refuses to vote for the fifth time should be treated as an alien.

Veterans Express Gratitude

BY UNANIMOUS VOTE, the California Veterans of Foreign Wars, at their 24th annual state encampment at Los Angeles, have passed a resolution commending William Randolph Hearst and the Hearst newspapers for supporting the GI Bill of Rights.

Introduced by National Legislative Chairman J. Rufus Klawans of San Francisco, the resolution said:

"Whereas, William Randolph Hearst and the Hearst newspapers have through the years solidly supported constructive veterans' legislation, and,

"Whereas, the 'GI Bill of Rights,' sponsored nationally by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will shortly become national law, and,

"Whereas, the Hearst newspapers gave full co-operation and substantial support in the long fight for passage of this measure for all World War II veterans, therefore

"Be it resolved, that this 24th Annual Department Encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars does hereby go on record as expressing its deep appreciation to the Hearst newspapers for this valuable support."

WASHINGTON, June 24—Mr. Erwin Sias, one of my distinguished newspaper pals, has the distinction—unique, so far as I know—of doing K. P. without ever getting into the Army.

Mr. Sias was ordered up for induction at Ft. Myer, Va., yesterday. The inductees—about 11 of them—were told to line up.

Lt. Col. C. E. Royer, the station's commanding officer, came in and gave a pep talk. Mr. Sias said it was very inspiring, if slightly loaded with maize or corn.

"We were then put through the examinations," continued Mr. Sias. "The boys who were accepted were sent home.

"About 25 of us were rejected—me, because of my asthma. We rejectees were told to wait.

"After a while a corporal came in. He said there was some cleaning that had to be done and that he was looking for volunteers.

"Well, it seemed we were all hard of hearing in addition to our other defects. Anyway, no one volunteered.

"The corporal did not appear greatly astounded. He gave what I considered a definite leer and said that as soon as the cleaning was done we could all go home. Otherwise there was bound to be a considerable delay.

"Somehow the idea got over that it would be a smart idea to volunteer, so we volunteered. We were given brooms and dustpans.

"We cleaned about six rooms—and I will tell you something in strict confidence, but please do not pass it on to my boss. K. P. is harder than newspaper work.

"After we cleaned the joint thoroughly we were permitted to depart. So now I have done K. P. without being in the Army."

I agreed with Mr. Sias that it was quite an experience.

"But," I said, "I do not think they can order non-warriors to do kitchen police.

"I know that," said Mr. Sias, "I told you we volunteered, didn't I?"

IT IS NOT generally considered good business to boost another columnist, but the one I am about to plug has a publication to which I never expect to gain access. He is Rep. William P. Lambertson, of Kansas, humorous columnist of the Congressional Record.

For upwards of four years now, Lambertson has done a weekly column of pithy comment which he inserts in the Record under "Extension of Remarks." He has an edge on most columnists in that he can write anything he pleases, even to the extent of heavy prophecy, without worrying about how it may affect his syndication.

Also, if he fails to make his deadline, he does not have to lie his head off with excuses.

His column, "The Cloakroom," appears every Thursday. Here are some of his items:

"What this country needs is more ex-Presidents."

"When the world makes bigger sacks to hold, we will hold them."

"The one 'indispensable' head of our land has changed a majority of his cabinet members in mid-stream."

"The favorite song of the White House is 'My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean.'"

"If we don't change horses it will be our last ride as a democracy."

"The House is beginning to realize that its intended function was to represent the people and not the President."

"It is a little paradoxical to say we are fighting for freedom and at the same time insist on being a permanent part of a superstate."

"We do not claim to be a prophet, or the relative of one, but we will bet that Henry Wallace has never lost caste with the indispensable one and will be tagged the nominee for Vice-President again."

I do not know where I get the idea, but I have the strangest feeling that Rep. Lambertson is not a New Dealer.

I ASKED Rep. Lambertson if he considered columning hard work. I do not know as I relished his answer.

"It is easy," he said. "It does not interfere with my regular labors at all. How about you?"

"Oh," I said, "I just dash it off on the side. But I wish I could get off my side."

MY FAVORITE nephew, Lt. Francis Dennis Joseph O'Sullivan, Jr., dropped in for a short visit the other day. He looked very military and imposing.

Apparently, he impressed the little woman no end, which was amazing, considering that less than two years ago she was quite convinced that he could not be entrusted to go to the corner grocery without elaborate instructions.

The little woman exhibited a deference I would not have beheved possible. She seemed to take it for granted that Lt. Francis Dennis Joseph had taken over the entire job of running the war.

Lt. Francis Dennis Joseph is in the Infantry, but the little woman apparently refused to beheve that this would place any limitation upon his activities.

In the midst of a general discussion of things military, she suddenly leaned forward and demanded:

"What are you going to do about stopping those German robot planes?"

THIS is quoted in response to a New Yorker who writes: "You have quoted many poems in praise of little women. How about little men? My husband, who is 5 feet 5 inches tall, is a wonderful man" . . . Twin beds are responsible for many divorces. So claimed Judge Donoghue of Chicago. Shortly after the judge voiced this claim, a New York matron seeking a divorce told the court: "When we had twin beds we were happy. Then, my husband decided on one big bed and gave the twin beds to his mother. In the single bed we began to get into arguments until one night my husband threw me out on the floor." (Note—As to the two-bed idea, this department has always claimed the beds should not be "twins." Take the case of a long-legged, 6-footer type husband and a cute little trick wife. Why should both have the same size bed? The husband should have a big bed and the wife a little one. Such a combination, in addition to providing comfort for the oversized husband, might present an appealing and romantic picture.)

A—Well, since you insist I will tell you that one prominent star gazer said: "Capricorn women rarely give their hearts and souls a burst of romantic ardor. They think through all angles of their situation and finally their good sense sends a message to their hearts to fall in love."

TONY PASTOR: "A Night at Tony Pastor's," starring Ann Sheridan, is a promised film. Sounds interesting. Another interesting film would be "A Night at Watson's Cosy Corner," starring Gypsy Rose Lee. Tony Pastor's was a thing of the past before I became a vaudeville fan. However, when in high school, I was a regular customer of the Brooklyn burlesque theater known as Watson's Cosy Corner. So if a film is made of that I shall be glad to furnish the producer with a few interesting details. Being a student of theatrical history, I am not totally ignorant as to Tony Pastor. He was born in Greenwich Village, New York City, May 28, 1837. Began as an entertainer at age of six, singing at the Hand in Hand Temperance Society. At 14, Tony was a ringmaster in a circus. At 24 he opened his first theater at 444 Broadway. In 1881, he started his famous place on 14th st. Was there he gave Lillian Russell her first chance in New York.

HOLLYWOOD, June 24—A sudden shuffle in the casting of "Experiment Perilous" brings out some interesting news. George Brent will play the hero role opposite Hedy Lamarr in the RKO movie instead of Gregory Peck, originally scheduled for the part. As it stands now, the lineup is Brent, Hedy and Paul Lukas.

Hedy Lamarr

The reason Gregory Peck can't report for the starting bell is David Selznick had first call on him and wants him for the love interest opposite Ingrid Bergman in "Bernhardt"—the Divine Sarah. It has been said before, but I'll say again that many of the hottest roles of the year are going to Peck.

HOLLYWOOD, June 24—Joseph Cotton has no appetite for scenery of potato salad. There's an explanation for the potato salad. And there are some people who believe that all actors, at various intervals, chew scenery.

Joseph Cotton

Before he made good in show business, he sold potato salad. In Miami, he organized the "Tip Top Salad Co." and offered potato salad in special wax containers for sale to drug stores. He was doing a good business until the stores decided to package their own. Then he turned to acting.

He is a reconstructed southerner, born in Petersburg, Va., on May 15, 1905. He attended dramatic school in Washington, but paid more attention to playing with a professional football team. His school requested that he play under an assumed name. His choice of an alias was "John Smith."

He is six feet two inches tall, weighs 186 pounds, has blonde hair, blue eyes, and accentuates his slimness by ordering all his suits without pockets.

COTTON BEGAN his theatrical career at the Miami Civic Theatre. Here, in a play, he had the role of a pianist, but he couldn't play the piano. Lenore Kipp, socially prominent fashion magazine editor, went backstage and played the piano for him. This is how their romance started. She is now Mrs. Cotton.

She encouraged him to try Broadway, even writing letters to certain theatrical people she knew. One of his most important jobs was as Melvyn Douglas' understudy in "Tonight Or Never." He never got the chance to go in, which pleased him.

Later, he joined the Copley Theater Players in Boston, where he scored an immediate hit in "Tonight Or Never."

HE GENERALLY wears gloves and he used to buy gum by the carton, when he could get it. When working, he prefers liquid foods. For lunch, he drinks clam chowder, broth, malted milk, tomato juice or anything he can carry in a thermos bottle. He avoids the studio commissaries.

Even when he couldn't afford it, he always preferred to buy the best in clothes, food, tobacco and liquor.

All-Occasion Biscuits

Easy With Ready-Mix

By MARTHA LEE

ALL-OCCASION BISCUITS are made in a flash with home-made biscuit mix. Several batches mixed up except for the liquid, will keep in the refrigerator for several weeks. From there the mixing and baking take only 15 minutes.

Butterscotch or cinnamon biscuits, marmalade triangles, orange, whole wheat or drop biscuits are all delicious possibilities. And, of course, the mix can be used for meat or fruit shortcakes, for topping on meat pies, and for dumplings, waffles and quick coffee cake.

Following is the recipe for biscuit mix and several variations:

HOMEMADE BISCUIT MIX

8 cups flour
8 tsp. baking powder
4 tsp. salt
1½ cups lard

Sift flour and measure. Sift again with baking powder and salt. Cut in lard until mixture has fine even crumb. Place in closed container and keep in refrigerator, using as desired. This mixture will keep at least a month in the refrigerator and will yield five batches, with two cups of mixture to the batch. Approximately 2-3 cup milk should be added to each batch of mixture for baking powder biscuit consistency.

BUTTERSCOTCH BISCUITS

Roll biscuit mixture into oblong, ¼-inch thick. Cream ½ cup margarine or butter with ¾ cup brown sugar. Spread on dough before rolling up like a jelly roll. Cut off pieces ¾-inch thick. Brush sides of biscuit with melted butter or margarine. Place close together in pan, cut side down. Bake 15 minutes in 450 deg. F. oven. Makes 12 to 15 rolls.

MARMALADE TRIANGLES

Roll biscuit mixture ¼-inch thick. Cut into 4-inch squares. Drop 1 teaspoon marmalade in center of each square, and fold one corner across to opposite corner. Press open sides together with fork tines. Brush melted margarine or butter over top, and bake 15 minutes in 450 deg. F. oven.

ORANGE TEA BISCUITS

Roll out and cut baking powder biscuits. Press a small lump of sugar dipped in orange juice on top of each biscuit, sprinkle with grated orange rind and bake for 12 to 15 minutes in 450 deg. F. oven. Makes about 14 biscuits.

WHOLE WHEAT BISCUITS

If you prefer whole wheat biscuits, use in the original biscuit mix half whole wheat or graham flour in place of white flour and continue as for regular biscuits.

SAVORY BISCUITS

Roll dough ⅛ inch thick, cut with floured 1½-inch biscuit cutter and spread ½ of rounds with concentrated beef and vegetable extract; cover with remaining rounds, press edges together lightly. Bake in 450 degrees F. oven for 12 to 15 minutes. Serve with consomme, main course or green salad. Makes 1 dozen small biscuits.

DROP BISCUITS

Add about a third again as much milk as for ordinary biscuits and mix. Drop from teaspoon onto ungreased baking sheet. Bake in 450 degrees F. oven for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 16 biscuits.

FILLED BISCUITS

Roll dough ⅓ inch thick. Cut out rounds and spread half of them with ham paste, chopped cooked ham, cooked sausage, cooked apricot pulp, shaved maple sugar or grated cheese. Press other rounds lightly on top. Bake.

BROWN SUGAR AND WALNUT PINWHEELS

Roll the dough into a rectangular sheet 17 x 9½ inches. Spread with 6 tbsp. softened butter or margarine; then sprinkle with a mixture of ¾ cup brown sugar, firmly packed, and ½ cup coarsely chopped walnuts. Roll up like a jelly roll. Cut crosswise into ¾ inch slices, then place each slice, cut side down, in a section of a greased or oiled baking pan with sides just touching each other. Bake as for baking powder biscuits. Makes 22 pinwheels.

THANKS TO OGDEN NASH'S delighful poem "The Drop of a Hat" . . . those four lines, at least, reveal generally what men think of women's hats. They may not express appreciation of a feminine attempt to smarten the head . . . but at least they show that men are amused.

But whatever the mere males think about our droopy drapes . . . it all focuses down to whether we gals dress for masculine adoration or for each other. That's a moot question . . . a debatable one of gigantic proportions . . . but in any case a new hat is better than a tonic for any woman.

In the main . . . correct me if I'm wrong . . . men usually like hats that frame a gal's face and are wide-brimmed . . . "not little freak ones" despite their effective chic and distinctive arrangement. And so fall hats . . . as usual . . . will be any shape . . . any size . . . with close fitting, small crown ones still remaining high style on the fashion roster . . . in order to complement the slim silhouette.

HATS SHOULD ENHANCE THE ENSEMBLE

Lily Dache, famous hat designer, loves the unusual . . . the frivolous and the gay. She feels it heightens a woman's mood . . . gives her eclat . . . lifts her out of the doldrums . . . and skyrockets her poise and confidence . . . besides being the means of getting an extra glimpse or two.

Master at weaving intricate baubles, scintillating jewels, flowers and ribbons in her hats . . . which makes them all-seasonal . . . she predicts that the new fall hats will be close-fitting cloches with height at the crown. Right now she accents matching hat and mittens . . . as, for instance, a candy-striped ribbon hat of green and bright red and gloves of the same design.

Whatever hat style you select for your type . . . be certain it makes you more beautiful . . . otherwise it has no worth. Hats should be more than mere head coverings. They should enhance the ensemble either in design or color contrast.

My Day

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Friday—Last evening in Syracuse, the committee of Russian War Relief, Inc., held a meeting which seemed to me to be a great success. The patriotic societies and some of the churches participated, and I was glad to have the opportunity to urge people to do all they can to help the Russian people when they need it so badly.

EARLY THIS MORNING, we left by train and arrived in Poughkeepsie only in time to have a brief lunch and then go to Rhinebeck where I had promised to speak to the League of Women Voters. This afternoon, some people are coming to spend the week-end, and so our very quiet country life seems to be rather busy.

I have been asked to bring to my readers' attention the fact that there is a national odd-shoe exchange in St. Louis, Mo. In writing to me about it, the director, Miss Ruth C. Rubin, says: "This organization is for persons who, through disease or injury, wear shoes of different sizes, and persons who, because of amputation, wear just one shoe.

"MANY OF these individuals must buy two pairs of shoes in order to get one properly fitting pair. Not only does this involve a double expense, but presents another problem — what to do with the other pair of mismates in order to keep them from going to waste.

"I know that there are a number of odd-shoe exchanges scattered throughout the country. But they have been poorly publicized and are not known by those who really need them."

Satin for Summer Chic

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE shimmer of satin is one of the leading signs of chic this summer. Very dressy suits and dresses of this gleaming material are being made by some of our best designers, and worn by a lot of the grandest of the carriage trade. And I have noticed lately that satin with an asymmetrical look to the cut is very important as a part of this satin movement in the styles.

I have chosen a suit of black satin with the asymmetrical look to show you. The jacket here is one without a collar, and with short cape sleeves, but it has a very flaring asymmetrical peplum that gives it a new character. The skirt is slim and simple, and a white chiffon blouse is worn.

Holiday Reunions

ALL ALONG THE NORTH SHORE families are opening summer homes and looking forward to reunions over the Fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Devereux Barker of Beacon st. have moved to Driftin', their seaside place at Marblehead Neck and their daughter-in-law will soon be there with her two youngsters. Debutante Margaret and post-deb Mary Amory are with their parents at Beverly Farms but commuting almost daily to their volunteer jobs at the Blood Bank.

Beverly Farms is also the address of those popular sisters, Julia and Louisa Barbour, but their swimming and horseback riding is mostly limited to weekends when they're off duty from hospital work.

Marblehead and Swampscott are attending the wedding of Hortense Grace Dunbar and Lt. Leonard Fowle, USCGR, performed at 4:30 this afternoon by Rev. Garfield Morgan in Central Congregational Church, Lynn, with a small reception at the New Ocean House.

The bride's brother, William M. Dunbar of Washington, is giving her in marriage. Her gown of white satin has a net yoke and seed pearl trim and her veil of French lace falls from a coronet of orange blossoms. The attendants, Mrs. Charles E. Donovan, Janet Bubier, Mrs. Ralph M. and Mrs. William M. Dunbar, are in white marquisette with bouquets of sweet peas and stephanotis.

Lt. Com. Walter Wood, USCGR, of New London, is best man. Mrs. William Dunbar of Swampscott, the bride's mother, is wearing blue-gray with matching hat and orchids and the groom's mother, Mrs. Leonard Fowle of Marblehead, aqua crepe and lace with orchids.

The couple will honeymoon at Nantucket and live at Black Pt., Ct. Lt. Fowle, a Harvard '30 graduate, is at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy in New London.

REV. PHILLIPS E. OSGOOD is officiating at the 4 o'clock wedding in Leslie Lindsay Memorial Chapel at which Jane Breckenridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Breckenridge of West Newton, becomes the bride today of Ens. Chapin B. Miller, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston T. Miller of Canaan, N. H.

The attendants are Sylvia Dennison, Lt. Preston T. Miller, Jr., USA, Remington Clark, Jr., and James R. Miller 2d. The bride's gown of white marquisette has a bouffant skirt with a Chantilly lace panel forming a long sweeping train and her fingertip veil is caught to a coronet of lily of the valley. She is carrying gardenias and babies' breath. Miss Dennison, also in white marquisette, is carrying pink and blue larkspur and yellow snapdragon and her headdress is a side spray of the same.

SYLVIA DENNISON — bridesmaid at the Miller-Breckenridge wedding in Leslie Lindsay Chapel today.

Brown gloves and a brown tulle picture hat accent the lovely beige crepe worn by the bride's mother and her corsage is pink bachelor buttons and lavender lace flower. Mrs. Miller is wearing gray crepe with a flower hat and corsage of gardenias surrounded by tiny flame orchids.

After July 3 the newlyweds will be at home at Key West, Fla., where the groom is at the U. S. Naval Air Station.

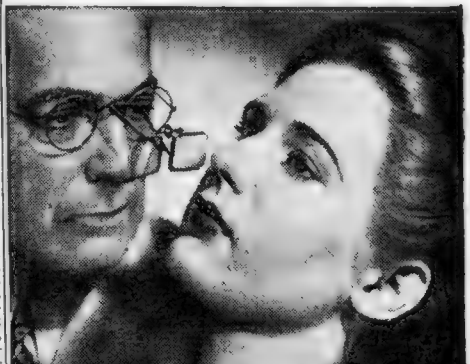
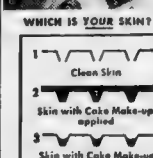
Don't Cork Pore-Mouths With Cake Make-Up! WARNS SCIENCE



WHICH IS YOUR SKIN?



BIG PORE OPENINGS: Hard little pellets of cake make-up clogging pore-openings may not merely help stretch and enlarge them . . . but even worse, interfere with normal functioning, gather dangerous germs, lead to ugly blemishes!

DRY SKIN: Watch out for dry skin. It looks years older, lacks the radiance of youth. If you have the slightest tendency to dryness or skin flakiness, be wary of cake make-ups.

Lady Esther baby-texture powder gives that young, smooth, "flawless look"...without danger!

Skin specialists have told me their first warning to girls with skin trouble is "Stop using cake make-up". It exposes delicate skin to three serious risks . . . dryness, coarseness and blemishes. Needless risks, when you can achieve far more exciting loveliness . . . without danger.

Why Lady Esther "Glamorizes" your skin without danger

Made by the exclusive Twin Hurricane Process . . . of the finest and purest ingredients . . . Lady Esther Face Powder gives your skin an enchanting new radiance. Infinitely finer and softer than other powders . . . my powder spreads on your face not like powdery particles . . . but rather like a delicate flattering film, that hides little lines and blemishes, clings 4 long hours. Even in strong sunlight, your face never looks mask-like or chalky, but utterly natural . . . as fine, smooth and flawless as lovely baby skin.

These thrilling results I promise you are not just my own opinion. They are the actual words, the experiences of thousands of women . . . taken from actual letters! These women have seen the difference on their own skin. They know from experience that no other make-up is half so flattering . . . or stays on and stays fresh so long, as safe Lady Esther Powder!

What is your skin experience? Write me. My address is: 7171 W. 65th St., Chicago, Ill.

Lady Esther FACE POWDER

Gives skin a baby texture that clings for 4 long hours

JVA Unit to Push Salvage During Vacation

Though their class studies have ended, members of the "Defense and Aviation" Corps of the Junior Victory Army in Dorchester, commanded by Maurice Ames, have pledged themselves to continue their salvage activities and all other work on the Home Front to back up our servicemen.

The unit is the largest in New England, having 222 members, the latest recruit being Arthur Sharpe, Gaylord st., Dorchester. It comprises pupils of the Oliver Wendell Holmes School and is sponsored by Miss Esther E. Larson, geography teacher. The captain is Kenneth Brody.

Four hundred comic books are being collected as a result of the plea of the Citizens Committee for the Army and Navy, Inc., affiliate of the USO here.

Capt. Brody's report for the week showed salvage of 1830 lbs. of scrap paper; 61 lbs. of kitchen fats; 197 magazines; 8 jigsaw puzzles; 64 lbs. of tin; two more pairs of stockings and sale of $72.05 in war stamps and two $18.75 war bonds.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army, Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

Wonderland Park Speeds Up Races

By JACK CONWAY

ONE GOOD thing about dog racing at night is the fact it gives the horse players a chance to get even, while the winners at the horse tracks can add to their profits if they are fortunate. When I dropped over to Wonderland Park following an afternoon at Suffolk Downs I found many of the same customers on hand.

Stanley Woodward, sports editor of the New York Herald-Tribune, was with Mike Kelleher and Frank Ryan. Earlier in the day they had been at Suffolk Downs.

Jack Donahue, top man among the nation's dog handicappers, was seated in a box opposite the finish line. Jack considers dog racing like any other business. One has to give it a great deal of time and attention to do well at it.

Two of the three dogs Jack told me about won which gives an idea about his handicapping skill. I understand that Jack has a library on dogs and their records which would take a large section of space if placed in the Congressional Library at Washington.

I found great enthusiasm among the 14,000 persons at the races. They appeared to have plenty of fresh spinach, which was poured through the mutuel machines in reckless style. People seem to want to bet and they like the quick action they get at a dog track.

Speed Up Mutuels

I TOOK A trip through the mutuel department with George Funk and watched the high speed operation. Stafford Blondell has one of the best crews of lightning calculators there is at any race track. They usually have the payoffs figured out before the red official is flashed on the "tote" board. As a result, the cashiers are able to start paying off immediately and it is not necessary to delay the races.

"We start the first race at 7:30 p. m. and have the tenth race by 10:15 p. m.", said George Funk. "If necessary, we shut out money from the mutuels rather than have a delay in our time table. As a matter of record, however, it has been necessary to shut out only very little money."

Funk called my attention to special attendants who stand back of the sellers.

"If a seller punches out the wrong ticket and cannot sell it to someone else, he is permitted to turn it in to the attendant before the race starts," said Funk. "If there is a loss on the ticket the track takes it. We felt it was unfair to ask the sellers to assume all such losses.

"It is interesting to note that we have about broken even on these tickets.

"In many cases, the sellers have not been at fault when the customer has refused a particular ticket. People at race tracks often get confused and call for one ticket when they really desire a different one. We want the fans satisfied and so accept their word on the matter of tickets."

Plan New Improvements

IN POSTWAR days, Wonderland Park plans numerous new plant improvements. It has been able to doll up its track this year, but later on there will be a clubhouse and a larger grandstand.

The recent rains have brought up the new grass and this adds to the beauty of the place. Of course I know of a great many dog players who would prefer a winning ticket much more than they would fine scenery. I think, though, that Wonderland Park has gone a long ways in making its grounds more attractive.

It is likely that Wonderland Park will establish new records for attendance and mutuel handle this year.

Close Supervision

CHAIRMAN Charles F. Connors of the Massachusetts Racing Commission was on the job seeing that everything went along smoothly.

One of the reasons dog racing has prospered so well in this State is because it has been closely supervised by the Racing Commission, which has had the full co-operation of the various tracks.

With Wonderland Park, Raynham, and Dighton running full schedules this year, and Suffolk Downs having its biggest season, it is expected that the State will receive more revenue from racing than at any time since the horses and dogs were legalized here.

Stirnweiss Sparks Yanks in New Drive

By Associated Press

George (Snuffy) Stirnweiss, second baseman of the New York Yankees, not only has filled the shoes of Joe Gordon to everybody's satisfaction, but is stealing everything in sight with them.

The former North Carolina University athlete was responsible for all his team's runs, besides pilfering his 16th base in 18 attempts, as the Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 1.

This victory enabled the world champions to climb back into a tie for third place with the Chicago White Sox.

Stirnweiss made three hits, including a double; drove in three runs, and scored the other two. One of his tallies resulted from his steal in the third inning, and it was the 14th time he had scored by a steal.

LEADS AT BAT

Snuffy leads all the Yankees at bat with a .284 average, and his 44 runs scored is only one behind the Red Sox Bob Johnson, who leads the league. Only George Case of the Senators tops Stirnweiss in stolen bases with 17.

Sigmund Jakucki hurled his second successive shutout against Detroit to give the league leading St. Louis Browns a 5-0 victory. He blanked the Tigers by the identical score last Saturday. Vernon Stephens knocked in three runs for the Browns with a trio of hits.

Cleveland climbed into a three-way tie for sixth place with Philadelphia and Washington by defeating the Chicago White Sox, 5-1. Al Smith stymied the Pale Hose with four hits to hang up his fourth triumph.

Ed Head, sore arm Dodger hurler, pitched his fourth victory of the season without a defeat when he held the Philadelphia Phillies to two hits in blanking them 2-0. The victory put Brooklyn into a third-place tie with the Cincinnati Reds. Charlie Letchas, Philly second baseman, made both hits.

St. Louis and Pittsburgh battled 14 innings to a 5-5 tie in a game called by curfew. Each team used five pitchers. Twenty players were used by the Cards and 18 by the Pirates. Marty Marion, besides making four hits, handled 15 chances at shortstop without an error.

The Chicago Cubs handed the Reds their fourth straight defeat, scoring twice in the opening stanza to win, 3-1. Hank Wyse outpitched No-hit Clyde Shoun to rack up his fifth win of the year.

Kelley Rates Ortiz Best of Bantam Boys

By RINGSIDE

Harry Kelley, famous Boston trainer, today proclaimed Manuel Ortiz of Mexico City, world's bantamweight champion, as one of the greatest fighting men he has seen in action. Kelley has been watching Ortiz train for his 10-round bout with Larry Bolvin of Providence which will take place at National League Park on next Thursday night under the direction of the Callahan A. C.

"Ortiz is the perfect fighting machine," said Kelley. "He punches well to the body, while he gets great power behind his attacks to the head.

"In addition, the Mexican has great speed. Now that Ortiz has added weight he will score more kayos. He was at 126½ pounds when he stepped on the scales at my gym following his workout. He will be better as a featherweight than as a bantamweight.

"It would be a mistake for Ortiz to try to make the bantamweight limit. He would sap himself of his vitality. He looks great as a featherweight.

"Larry Bolvin, like Ortiz, is also a puncher. It should be a stirring battle when Ortiz and Bolvin start trading blows."

Eddie Mack and Jack O'Brien report a lively ticket sale.

Boxing Commissioner Dez Wadsworth told the writer it was a good idea to decide to place the ring at first base at National League Park. This decision will give the fans a perfect view of the action.

Sailors May Upset Caseys

With a perfect record for Sunday games, the Dick Casey Club of Dorchester stands a good chance of having that slate smirched tomorrow when it meets the powerful First Naval District Receiving Station team at the Dorchester Town Field.

The Sailors have one of the strongest teams in Greater Boston boasting of several former big and minor league players who are out to make it two in a row over the Park league club—the other victory taking place last year.

The Tars will be particularly strong in the box as Holowka of the Pirates and Chick Hayes, formerly of the Cards, will do the twirling while Dick Casey will pitch Cy Epstein and Johnny Good.

Bill Armon, former International leaguer and coach of Iowa University, manages the Navy and will play in the outfield for his team.

The Dorchester team will be at full strength and hopes to avenge last year's defeat—the only loss it suffered outside of Park League competition.

Play Until 1 A. M. Rule Stops 'Em

PITTSBURGH, June 23 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals battled through 14 innings, the last six scoreless, to a 5-5 tie tonight. The game was called at the end of the 14th by the league rule ending night games at 1 a. m.

The Pirates tossed away a chance to end the deadlock in the twelfth when Pete Coscarart singled and Jim Russell and Jack Barrett both were safe on attempted sacrifices. But Al Rubeling, Tommy O'Brien and Babe Dahlgren all were easy putouts for Sylvester Donnely, the Cardinals' fifth pitcher.

Rain Forces Red Sox Nats to Call Contest

By BILL GRIMES

After gambling with second raters yesterday and losing, Manager Joe Cronin will send his ace hurler, "Tex" Hughson, after the Senators tomorrow afternoon at Fenway Park.

"Tex" has been pitching very effectively this season and already has chalked up nine victories against only three defeats. On his last time to the post, Hughson dropped a decision to the Athletics in Philadelphia through no fault of his own. He should and would have breezed home a winner if his support hadn't let him down.

victories against only three defeats. On his last time to the post, Hughson dropped a decision to the Athletics in Philadelphia through no fault of his own. He should and would have breezed home a winner if his support hadn't let him down.

The baseball game, scheduled for Fenway Park this afternoon, between the Sox and Senators was called off because of rain.

Like Joe Cronin Manager Ossie Bluege of the Senators is trying to straighten a more or less disorganized pitching corps. Although he would not say definitely that Roger Wolff would draw the starting assignment for tomorrow afternoon, Bluege stated that it looked like the former Athletics' knuckle baller would get the nod.

The Red Sox didn't get the pitching yesterday and were no match for the Senators after the third round. Vic Johnson was pounded hard and was excused after three innings. Then Yank Terry straggled through a couple of frames, after which Eddie Lake took over and allowed only three hits and gave up but one run.

After the opening inning Early Wynn had the Red Sox well under control. A Pete Fox triple followed by a single by George Metkovich in the opening frame produced the lone Boston tally. From then on the Red Sox couldn't do anything with Wynn, who limited them to five blows over the nine innings.

Dots and Dashes

During the playing of the national anthem, the needle ran afoul of a crack on the record, and didn't reach the final line . . . But, in fairness to Miss Barbara Tyler, who takes time out from her secretarial work to operate the machine, the accident was an improvement on Dave Rosen's "boner" at Braves Field . . . Miss Tyler had the right record, not "My Country "Tis of Thee" . . . Vic Johnson is not ready for American League competition . . . He proved that conclusively yesterday . . . The Senators belted him for six hits in three innings and if they had played heads up baseball on the bases would have more than five runs . . .

Joe Cronin didn't want to use young Johnson, but due to the fact that the Red Sox played five games in three days in Philadelphia just before returning home and with Tom Judd still under a blanket, had no alternative . . . He'll start "Iron-Mike" Ryba before he takes that gamble again . . .

THE CAN RATTLES

And, incidentally, the Red Sox must turn a player loose to make room for Lou Finney . . . The "can" will wind up on some pitcher, three of whom are absolutely useless . . . Around Fenway Park the impression is that young Bob Grove, who is in an anti-tank unit, was in the invasion of France . . . Early Wynn is a switch hitter but definitely not a good one . . . Jack Sullivan, of the Senators, rates with the best shortstops in the majors . . . And, in a couple of years, he should be right on top, if he continues to improve . . . Lt. Tom Mason, who was overseas in the European theater flying a U. S. Navy plane, now on detached duty helping the Fifth War Loan drive, works out with the Red Sox whenever he manages to get a day off.

Joe Cronin makes no bones of registering disgust when his pitchers go bad . . . Byron Paine, who hails from New Bedford, but who has been piloting boats through the Panama Canal since 1926, visited with his old pals, Tom Yawkey and Joe Cronin yesterday . . . Due to transportation he hasn't been home since 1941 . . . Jim Tabor made a great play on George Myatt's slow bounder in the sixth.

Pinch hitters Leon Culberson and Tom McBride didn't do anything to help the cause . . . In fact with the exception of Pete Fox, Early Wynn didn't have much trouble disposing of the Red Sox . . . Eddie Lake was just wild enough to keep the Senators nice and loose . . . Eddie broke off a real curve when he struck out Wynn in the 7th . . .

RED SOX POPULAR

Considering that the Red Sox lost six of their last nine games going into yesterday's tilt, the crowd which totaled 4380 was a tribute to their popularity.

On the double play, which retired the Sox in the 7th, Bobby Doerr and and George Myatt, who were teammates and close pals in the Pacific Coast League, before they came up, were all tangled up on the keystone sack.

The Red Sox came up with a freaky double play in the 8th, when with George Case on second and George Myatt on first, Gil Torres' bunt took a high hop after hitting right in front of the plate . . . Hal Wagner grabbed the ball, threw to Jim Tabor forcing Case and Rawhide's heave to the "Skipper" nailed the Cuban by a wide margin.

Veteran DeMar is Listed in 10-Miler

By MIKE GILLOOLY

If you can't imagine running 10 miles in such weather, you can be convinced that it's being done for the sake of amateurism by moving across town to Roslindale or West Roxbury this afternoon at 5:30 to witness the ninth annual Race of Champions under the auspices of the Holy Name A. A.

There'll be 43 road-racers—possibly more—at the starting line off Roslindale square, competing for 18 prizes, come rain or shine in this craziest of sports.

And topping the field will be the 57-year-old Clarence DeMar, the master marathoner, making his first start of the 1944 campaign. Seven-time winner of the B. A. A. 26-miler, DeMar, wearing a significant No. 1, will be representing the Boston Typo Sports Ass'n as he attempts to beat out a new and strange field of up-and-coming youngsters, headed by the classy striding coast guardsman, Clayton Farrar, now stationed in New York city.

Farrar has become something of a local favorite with his fancy stepping this spring. He jumped into the winner's circle in the lengthy North Medford run, repeated his victory in the Reddish 10-miler and again in the Cathedral grind but then fell off in the B. A. A. Still he'll be the favorite for top honors in this handicap affair.

Farrar's top competition will probably come out of West Acton, home of Johnnie Kelley, the "bridesmaid of the Boston marathon." Kelley has played follow the leader in the B. A. A. roadburner no less than six times and only this past April, he continued his role in following Gerard Cote to the wire. He could gain some consolation by coming through in this test.

Farrar's rivalry will not stop with Kelley. There's still plenty of fight to be found against such top-notchers as Charlie Robbins, U. S. Navy, Johnnie Semple, U. S. Navy, Don Heinicke, Baltimore, Md., Fred McGlone, N. Y. M. A.; Ted Vogel, U. S. N., Louis Young and Tony Medeiros, North Medford Club.

The course of the run will be: Robert st. to South st. to Centre st. to Grove st. to Washington st. to Forest Hills square to Arborway to South st. to Monument to Centre st. to Holy Name field at Centre st. and West Roxbury Parkway.

Track Meet Off

The Junior track and field championships of the New England A. A. A. U., slated for this afternoon at Franklin Field, have been postponed until next Saturday because of the rain.

Foxy Flumere May Retain Huskie Berth

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Although Foxy Flumere, that dipsy-doodle coach of Northeastern University, has signed a one-year contract with Malden High school as physical education director and assistant football mentor, it's quite possible that he'll continue to guide the Huskies in basketball and baseball when their seasons roll around next year.

His intown duties wouldn't conflict in the least bit with his present Malden program as Northeastern practice sessions never get started until 5:30 in the afternoon.

Unless Flumere takes on further assignments—possibly with the hockey team — he'll have ample opportunity to continue in his role as coach of the Huskies. He's on a leave of absence from Northeastern right now but he could quickly and easily handle his new job and a portion of his old under this set-up. Flumere will be replacing Johnnie Dell Isola, recently signed as line coach for the new Boston pro football team.

Foxy should be a great help in moulding the Malden football team in the fall. His Husky grid editions, although lacking in outstanding talent, never failed to play great games from the spectators' point of view. Flumere coached elevens employ unorthodox offensives and defensives and with the abounding talent at Malden his type of play will be put to a thorough test in schoolboy ranks.

Flumere gained 13-letters while at Natick High School. He started Northeastern University after graduation in 1930 and became captain of football under Coach Al McCoy in 1932. Forced by sickness to leave school, Flumere returned in 1938 for his degree, moved into schoolboy coaching in 1940 and then returned to the Huskies as varsity backfield coach and head coach of all freshman sports in 1940.

He's married and has one child, a boy 14-months old.

Ike Williams Stops Shans

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—The lightweight fistic heights had a new boy today—Ike Williams, slugging Negro from Trenton, N. J.

The lanky lad punched his way into the picture last night in Madison Square Garden with a 10th round technical knockout over Cleo Shans, stubby, weaving battler from Los Angeles. It was the first time in 79 bouts that Shans failed to finish.

Williams, at 136, had a one-pound edge over his foe, along with a decided advantage in reach and height. Shans forced the fighting all the way, trying to get in close where he's a devastating hitter with each hand, but Williams retreated and counter-punched his way to victory. It was a mauling, bruising scrap all the way.

The Jersey scrapper has lost only one fight, to Bob Montgomery, who holds the New York version of the lightweight crown and who is now in the Army. Among Williams' victims are Sammy Angott and Slugger White.

Until the kayo, Williams had taken seven of the nine rounds, Shans winning the third and the fourth being even. He had Williams reeling in the third, after pounding him on the ropes, but Williams weathered the storm.

Referee Billy Cavanaugh didn't even start a count when Shans went down from a right to the jaw after 26 seconds in the tenth, but he could have counted to plenty before Shans regained consciousness.

Sun Again Choice In Chicago Classic

CHICAGO, June 24 (AP)—It's the three-horse entry of Warren Wright's Calumet Farms against the field in the fourth running of the $10,000 Equipoise mile which may lure as many as 17 thoroughbreds to the post at Washington Park today.

Top burdened at 127 pounds, Sun Again appears the horse to beat with plenty of pressure likely from his stablemates, Son of Peace and Mar-Kell, a filly.

Raynham Continues To Help Vets' Fund

By BILL BRISTOL

Another Veterans Special has been written into the record books and the American-Record fund for hospitalized war veterans is still growing.

The sixth special race put on by General Manager Russ Murray at Raynham last night for this most worthy cause netted $1759.49, bringing the total raised at Raynham to date up to $11,681.08.

Unlike the previous Veterans Special events which have been very closely contested affairs, Dough Boy "beat" his box last night, and took the feature by some ten lengths to pay $12.20. Andy Revere, an 11 to 1 shot, was second and Majestic saved show honors.

La Jane was the public choice but she was hit at the first turn and spilled which put her right out of the contention.

Long shot players had plenty of cause to cheer in the running of the first two races when Army Officer and Lindell, a pair of 13 to 1 outsiders, took hours to return a daily double of $398.40 one of the highest in the history of the track.
